

celebrating 10 years of the

SAKURA PROJECT

ON THE SAKURA PROJECT

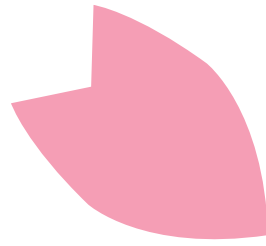

The Sakura Project planted a total of 3082 trees in Ontario, from the year 2000 to 2012, and 2022 marks the 10th anniversary of the Project's conclusion. The Project was spearheaded by the Consulate-General of Japan in Toronto, and the trees were donated as symbols of friendship and cordial relations between Japan and Canada.

This booklet is a collection of photos from Ontario cities, organizations, schools and more, that have received Sakura trees for the Sakura Project, and that have maintained the care of these trees so that their blooms can be enjoyed by the people of Ontario each year. We have also included a map indicating the location where the sakura trees have been planted, so that you may enjoy the trees when they bloom.

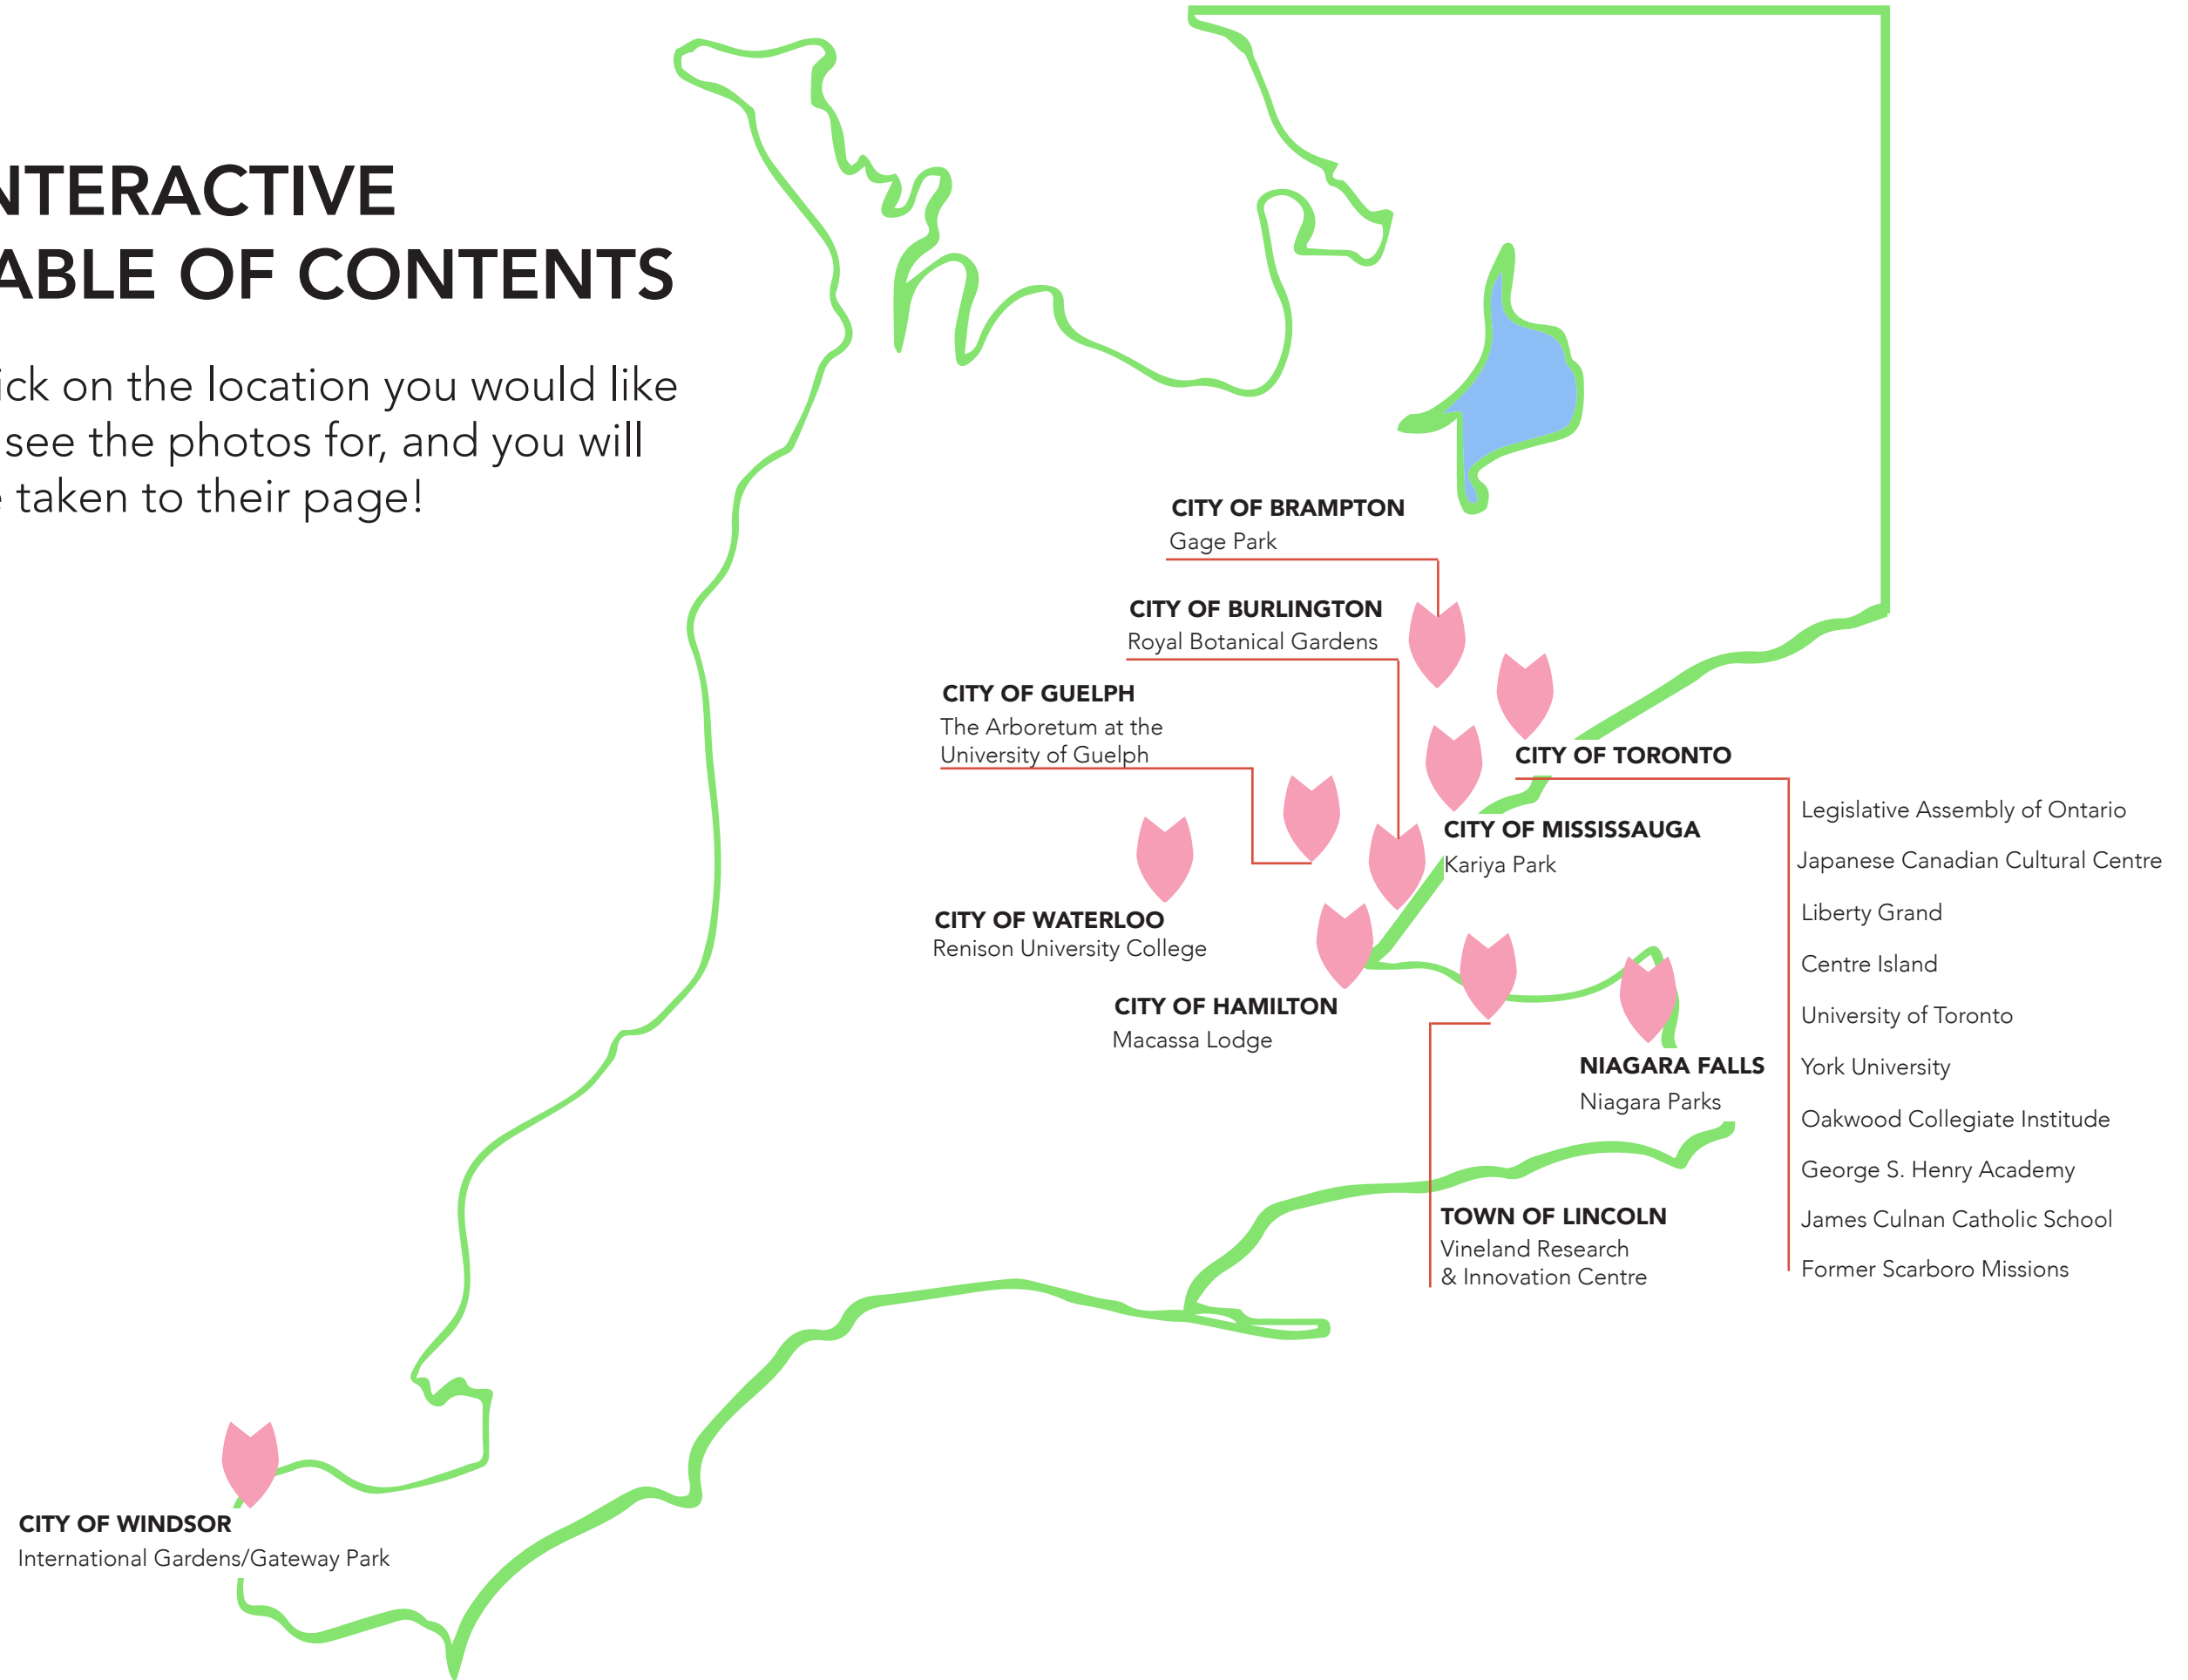

Message from Consul-General of Japan SASAYAMA Takuya

Ten years after the completion of the Sakura Project, I am very pleased to see so many of the Japanese flowering cherry trees planted through this initiative thriving. The history of Sakura in Ontario is intimately tied with the remarkably positive relationship that exists between this province and Japan. I would like to thank all those who care for these Sakura trees so that this important symbol of friendship can be enjoyed by future generations.

THE END

Thank you to all who had sent us the wonderful photos of blossoming Sakura, and the continued care that you provide to these trees and their blossoms.

We wish that their beauty will be enjoyed for many more years!
